FEATURES, TALENTS, & SPELLS

ACTION NAME TRIGGER/TARGET/EFFECT PAGE #

Free Devious Strike When an ally's melee attack misses a foe you are engaged with, you can make a no-trigger melee attack with a +4 bonus against them. If you hit, you gain a +2 bonus to all defences until an enemy misses you. HH35

- Animal Companion You have a loyal animal companion that fights alongside you, see page 3. HH142 of your character sheet for it's stats and powers.

Companions in battle: Your companion begins combat next to you or at a random nearby position.

Hit point threshold: Unlike most creatures animal companions do not have a hit point pool. Instead you track damage and conditions taken by your companion until it takes damage equal to or greater than its hit point threshold, at which point it is driven off. You can use a potion to heal a companion but you must spend the recovery and it only removes damage dealt toward their current threshold.

Calling into play: Once per turn you can attempt to call your companion into the fight or call them back if they have been driven off by taking damage up to their hit point threshold.

Companion Actions: You don't have to spend actions to control your companion, instead it takes its own actions immediately after you. Companions have a standard, move, quick, and interrupt action each round and can intercept and make opportunity attacks. It cannot delay or ready an action, but if you delay it will drop down in initiative to continue to act just after you. On its turn a companion will either stay close and guard you (preparing to intercept enemies moving to attack you), move and attack a creature that is attacking you, move and attack the nearest enemy, or use it's special attack. If using it's special attack the companion can move and target freely.

Rules: Companions add the ESC DIE to attacks and count as allies, other than for spell targetting.

During your turn: one each of standard > move > quick, and any number of free actions. Between your turns: one interrupt action.
